ANR have launched our new overview brochure

We are pleased to announce the launch of new look overview brochure explaining in brief the products and services which we offer.

Here at ANR we were looking for a brochure which encapsulated what we are trying to do with the company—explaining the products and services in an easy format for people to view.

ANR's growth, we perceive from clients feedback, is in complete assembly builds, turn key solutions utilising all of our internal skills and resources.

We are not simply another subcontractor, we offer solution provision, taking our clients ideas and helping them design and produce product, whilst at all times ensuing we have complete project control.

This brochure has been sent to a few companies, and the feedback has been positive. Many clients, although knowing, had forgotten that we offered both Electronic and engineering solutions, and we are pleased to say have picked up new business from both current accounts and new clients who have been impressed with our ethics and workmanship.

This new brochure covers the outline of our company—from company information and our ability to provide solutions to clients queries, and briefly explaining our six divisions:

PCB Assemblies

Cable Assemblies

CNC Milling & Turning

Box Build

Distribution

Our new website allows you to download a low resolution version of the brochure, whilst if you require a hard copy—please contact the sales team who can forward you some copies.
